Whether you are the best man, the father of the bride, or the maid of honour, you know that one of your “duties” will be to give a speech at the reception (and probably the rehearsal dinner as well!). Of course you want to give the best wedding speech ever, but speaking in front of a large group of people sounds about as ap-pealing to you as a root canal! In fact, you’d probably choose the latter if given a choice! For whatever its worth, you are not alone in your feelings about giving a speech. It is a rare person who is a natural-born orator, and with a little preparation and few tips to guide you, you will do just fine! Giving the best wedding speech has much more to do with your sincerity than your talent anyway. There are three things which will help you tremendously when it comes to giving a speech: good preparation, a little bit of practice, and knowing how to deliver it. If that still makes giving the best wedding speech sound like a daunting task, read on. By the end of this book you will hopefully be saying to yourself, “This will be a piece of cake!” (Wedding cake, of course!) In case you feel the pressure to have an eloquent speech committed to memory, here’s the good news: you don’t need to memorize it! In fact, if you want it to sound natural, it’s better if you don’t try to go that route.
